JOCKEY DALE HAS A BRILLIANT DAY.

Crack Rider Wins Four Races of Seven at Delmar Park-Peaceful Runs a Great Race.

A LUCKY WIN FOR LUNAR.

Willie Dale broke his run of bad luck yesterday by winning four of seven races at Delmar Park. He landed Orris, Peaceful, Kitty Clyde and Lunar winners, and the Saturday crowd, which always follows Dale, quit big winner. Next to Dale, Peaceful, the big St. Florian gelding, was the star performer. The great bay won the event of the day, at a mile and one-sixteenth, in a common canter. Beana and Van Hoorebeke were backed to beat but they never had a chance. With 115 pounds on his back, Peaceful just walked home alone in 1:4812, nice time for the day and the race.

Van Hoorebeke led to the stretch, attended by Peaceful. Then the Van Buren geld-ing stopped and the Sippy horse came with giant strides. Peaceful turned the seventh furlong at a tremendous clip. Beana did her best to come up in the stretch, but could not come anywhere near the horse.

The race showed that Peaceful is by edds
the best horse at the track, weight for age, over a route, with the possible exception of Maximus, his stable companion, and Mono graph. Mr. Hayes's great colt.

An alarming contretemps took place in the fourth race. Miss Mae Day was sec-ond choice at 2 to 1. Lunar the favorite at even money. Mae Day and Ben Frost, bed actors, kept the starter guessing. As usual, when trying to get bad actors away good actors are forgotten. Mr. Dade got Mae Day and Frost off all right. Fitzkenet, who is a good actor, was left at the post. J. O'Connor, who was riding him, set sail for the field, now fifteen lengths away. Fitzkanet was slow to begin, but at the half-mile pole he gathered speed and began to wish be because and a round them. pick his horses up and go round them. As they bent for the stretch turn he salled to the front and opened up a gap of three lengths. The contenders, Mae Day, Lumar and Meddlesome, seemed to weaken and fall back. It looked like Fitzkanet's race in a walk, and little O'Comor, after looking cautiously around, sat down to ride him in easily.

walk, and little O'Connor, after looking cautiously around, sat down to ride him in easily.

Meanwhile Dale had kept banging away at Lunar. That good mare, being a lover of a distance, answered the ride gamely. Though she seemed beaten and out of it at the head of the stretch, Lamar came flying, but it did not seem that she had a chance to pick up the ten lengths by which Fitzkanet led her into the stretch.

Whether the run to catch up to the field had hurt Fitzkanet and taken power out of him, or whether O'Connor eased him too much, cannot be said. But 100 yards away Dale got Lunar close to him. O'Connor saw her coming, but either misjudged the distance to the wire, his horse's speed or the other's pace, for he sat still, looking back at Dale Lunar was under a good head of steam now, and fifty yards out she pulled even with Fitzkanet. Then O'Connor was properly well scared. He made the usual fatal error of drawing his whip and lost the race, Lunar won by a scant head a race that Fitzkanet had in his pocket, and should have landed by ten lengths. Between the bad start, O'Connor's careless ride and the luck of the finish, Mr. Rogers got "his" going and coming, Lunar was apparently beaten off at the head of the stretch, and Dale did wonders with her.

Talpa walked home in the third race, though off a bad last. She raced over her horses and came home as O'Nelli pleased. Sambo ran a good second.

Guide Rock was a favorite in the sixth race, and ran a good race until his bad fore legs began to worry him. Then he weakened, and Dale, giving Kitty Clyde all kinds of a good ride, won in a drive, which the mare answered gamely.

Marion Lynch looked best in the next the mare answered gamely.

Marion Lynch looked best in the next race, and she was. The public hated to race, and sae was. The public hated to take 4 to 1 against her with Enos up, for he had just done some of his craven riding on Amelia Strathmore, and as the field about Marion Lynch was big. Enos did not look like a 3-to-1 shot. He was lucky or smart in getting off in front, and it was all over then. Kisme ran a wretched race, without any excuses, So did Ignis.

Catarrh has become such a disease that a person entirely free from this disgusting complaint is seldom met with. It is customary to speak of Catarrh as nothing more serious than a bad cold, a simple inflammation of the nose and throat. It is, in fact, a complicated and very dangerous disease; if not at first in very dangerous disease; if not at first, it very soon becomes so.

The blood is quickly contaminated by the foul secretions, and the poison through the general circulation is carried to all parts of the system.

Salves, washes and sprays are unsatis-factory and disappointing, because they do not reach the scat of the trouble. S.S.S. does. It cleanses the blood of the po and eliminates from the system all catarrhal secretions, and thus cures thoroughly and permanently the worst cases.

and permanently the worst cases.

Mr. T. A. Williams, n lending dry goods merchant of Spartanburg. S. C., writes: For years I had a severe case of name Catarrh, with all the disagreeable effects which belong to that disease, a nd which make life painful and unendurable. I used medicines prescribed by leading physicians and suggested by numbers of friends, but without petting any better. I has began to take 8. 8.

A. R. had the desired effect, and cured me effer thring eighteen bottles. Is my opinion S. S. S. is the only medicine now in use that will effect a permanent.

SCHORR FILLY'S GAME RACE. Endurance by Right Took a Stake in Track-Record Time.

New York, Sept, 21.—Endurance by Right, J. W. Schorr's crack Western filly, took up 120 pounds in the Holly Handicap at Gravescend to-day and won cleverly by a length from a high-class field in the track-record time of 1:07 for five and one-half furlongs. The Holly Handicap was the feature event of the day's programme, and thirden 2-year-olds faced the starter. Endurance by Right was a strong favorite at 7 to 5, while King Hanover was second choice at 7 to 2. After a delay of lifteen minutes, the starter sent them off to a good start. Endurance by Right and Whisky King rushed right to the front and showed the way head and head up the back stretch, while two lengths back King Hanover and Chilton headed the others. Into the stretch the two leaders came with a rush, and for a few strides Whisky King showed in front. Endurance by Right was only galloping, however, and when Woods called on her she gradually drew away and won cleverly by a length. The second special, at one mile and a haif, was won by Blues, and in this event the track record for the distance was broken, on a track that was dead and slow.

Water Color, the favorite in the special race, made the early running, but Blues passed him at the end of a mile, and, coming on, won easily by four lengths in 233, a full second better than Imp's record for the track.

ing on, won easily by four lengths in 2-34, a full second better than Imp's record for the track.

HARLEM'S AUTUMN MEETING. Nine Days of Great Racing Promised in October.

chicago, Sept. 21.—The Harlem Jockey Club is planning to make its brief autumn meeting, which will last from September 30 to October 2, the most memorable nine days of Chicago's racing season.

The principal event of the meeting will be the $8,000 Twentieth Century Handleap, which will be the greatest race of the fall in the Middle West. Among the eighty-nine entries for the event are the last three American Derby winners, Pink Coat, Sidney Lucas and Robert Waddell, besides many other high-class horses. The distance will be a mile and three-sixteenths. Advance Guurd, who last Tuesday at Sheepshead Bay again proved himself the greatest horse in the country at weight for age over a mile and a half, is among the entries and word has been received that he will come West to run at Harlem in the big handleap.

RACE FOR HARLEM TROPHY TO-DAY Course Will Extend From Burlington
Elevator to Central Boathouse.

The shell race for the Harlem trophy will be rowed this afternoon at 6 o'clock over a course one and one-half miles down stream, commencing at the Burlington elevator and extending to the Central clubhouse at the foot of Palm street. The Westerns are the challengers for the trophy, now held by the Centrals, but it is expected that each of the clubs in the harbor will enter a crew.

Judger for the Westerns will be Jule F.

Mueller judge at start and W. H. Lamp judge at finish. Members of the Western Club have chartered the tug Reliance to follow the race throughout. The tug will leave the Western boathouse at 1:30 p. m.

Lively Row Over Judge's Decision in a Close Contest.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 21.—There was an unusual scene at the closing of the fourth day of the Oaklay Park Grand Circuit meeting. Paim Leaf, Janice and Ozanam had each two heats in the Grand Hotel purse of $3.000 for 2:14 trotters, and in the fast-growing darkness Ed Benyon, driver of Ozanam, followed by a crowd of about 200, went to the judges' stand to demand the enforcement of the rule against racing after the daylight had too far gone to be able to distinguish the color and gait of the horses. The judges insisted on deciding the race, and Palm Leaf and Janice were sent away for the final journey. It was so dark that no color of horse or driver's cap could be distinguished on the back stretch and far turn. The heat was won by Palm Leaf. The judges declared third money to go to the association. Benyon entered a protest amid the cheers of the crowd, and the money is now tied up for a decision by the National Trotting Association.

The unfinished 2:10 trot went to Sister Alice.

In a hard race of four heats, with Cambria Maid. George Castle won the 2:30 pace. Cambria Maid won the third heat in 2:09%, thus becoming a 2:10 performer.

There was nothing in the 2:14 pace to make the unbeaten Dan Patch extend himself, and the race went to him in straight heats.

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 21.—Spot cotton was weak and 10 points lower to-day. Wagon receipts were remarkably light, seventy-five bales only being sold. Prices: Good mid-74c. Compress receipts were 600 bales; shipments, 460 bales. Twenty-two places in the cotton-growing district reported the weather to be clear and cool. The cold nights are hurting the crop. At 70 clock this evening the thermometer over the beit ranged from 72 degrees at Shereveport to 80 at San Antonio.

CRESCEUS CINCHES HIS CHAMPIONSHIP.

Ketcham's Stallion Again Defeats The Abbot for a Purse of $20,000.

BOTH HORSES IN POOR FORM.

Heavy Track Caused Slow Time, Although Two of the Heats Were Hotly Contested-The Abbot Favorite.

Readville, Mass., Sept. 21.-The great stallion, Cresceus (2:02%), obtained a firmer grasp on his crown as king of trotters by defeating his only rival, The Abbot (2:03%). on the Readville track to-day in three out of four heats. The two fastest trotters in the world raced for a $20,000 purse offered by Mr. Thomas W. Lawson, and the money which the 12,000 people paid to see the event all went to a well-known local charity. The weather was perfect, but the track was very heavy, so that no records were broken or even approached; in fact, the fastest time, that in the last heat, was only 2:07%. The race was disappointing to a large majority of the crowd and seemed to lead to the conclusion that The Abbot has not recovered from his sickness of last springs

The Abbot Not in Form.

He managed to keep up in the second, to the delight of the crowd, passed Cresceus at the half and won by a length. In the third, however, another break came right at the start and the Scannell horse burely saved his distance at the finish. Finally, toe weights were resorted to, and, while they apparently steadled The Abbot, at the same time they sapped his vitality so that when the moment came for the supreme effort in the dash for the wire in the last heat, exhausted nature rebelled and Cresceus won the heat and race by several lengths.

Cresceus Not at His Best.

Crescus, while naturally delighted with the result, admitted that even his horse was not in proper shape, and that he lost the second heat because he did not stir Crescus up in the first half mile to the realization that there was a race on.

When it was all over and his horse was being led back to the stable, Mr. Scannell, the owner of The Abbot, said that the best horse won, but the track was wrethed. He took his defeat, however, with good nature. The third interested party in to-day's event. Mr. Thomas W. Lawson, smiled cynically and said it looked like a race between "busted horses." He also pointed out that the time was slower than in yesterday's race between Lord Derby and Boralma.

The Abbot Saved His Distance.

It was early in the afternoon when the two great trotters came out for their first heat. Ketcham had won the toss and the pole, and, after scoring three times, the word was finally given, and away they went with Cresceus in the lead. In the scoring The Abbot had acted badly, so that few were surprised when, at the turn, he suddenly went into the air in a bad break. By hard work, Geers got him back on his feet, but by this time Cresceus was far in the lead, over a dozon lengths to the good. It looked like a hopeless race for The Abbot in that heat; in fact, at one time it seemed as if Cresceus might be able to shut out the Scannell horse and win the big purse then and there, but Geers managed to pull up a little, and at the half was only ten lengths behind. This distance was still further reduced by the time the three-quarters pole was passed, and at the turn into the stretch The Abbot was safe. Geers made no attempt to push his horse further, so Cresceus won the first heat by ten lengths.

The second heat proved vastly exciting, for this time The Abbot kept his feet, but as usual Cresceus went out at the start and again led at the turn. At the quarter pole he was a length to the good and increased this distance to two lengths at the three-eighths. Then Geers began to drive and rapidly cut down the distance to a length, half a length, a quarter of a length, until, just after the two swept by the half-mile pole. The Abbot dashed ahead and for the first time took the lead and the pole. Creaceus Lost & Heat.

pole. The crowd, which all along seemed to fa-The crowd, which all along seemed to favor The Abbot, was frantic. Geers made the lead two lengths and then three, and so the flyers entered the stretch. Ketcham gave the big chestnut the severest punishment he had ever undergone at this point, and, starting under the stinging blows of the whip Cresceus dashed after The Abbot. Geers touched his horse lightly with the whip, only twice, and it was just enough to keep Cresceus from winning. The Abbot getting the flag by half a length.

getting the flag by half a length.

The Abbot's Poor Start.

But, in the third heat it was different, for again The Abbot acted badly and the two hor is scored five times before they got the word. Ketcham kept sending Cresceus out ahead, with the apparent intention of getting The Abbot off his feet. He succeeded so well that when they finally got the word The Abbot broke right under the wire. In fact, the break came with the starter's word, but too late to be recalled. Again Cresceus sped out ahead and was around the turn before The Abbot had even started in the race. This time it looked as if Ketcham had won his trick and had The Abbot fairly out. He drove Cresceus like the wind and was over fifty varids ahead at the half. But Geers did not despair and he once more sent The Abbot along and managed to get well within the distance flag, when Cresceus passed under the wire a heat winner by nearly forty yards.

Before the fourth heat was called two-ounce toe weights were put on The Abbot's forehoofs in order to steady him. Both drivers came to the conclusion that the track was too heavy near the pole for fast work, so both horses were started well up on the outside of the track. They only scored twice, in neither of which did The Abbot break, which gave confidence to his followers. At the word, Cresceus immediately went out in front and was three lengths to the good at the quarter pole. For a few hundred yards The Abbot trailed along behind, but before the half was reached he began to draw up and was only two lengths behind at that point.

Foot by foot the Scannell horse pulled down Cresceus's lead, until at the five-eighths pole the two were racing along on even terms; to the wild delight of the crowd. At the three-quarters The Abbot was in the lead, but could not quite fetch the pole, which Cresceus kept to the finish. Strongly Played Favorite Beaten for the Iroquois Stakes.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Jockey Coburn piloted Argregor to victory at Hawthorne to-day, capturing the Iroquois Stakes of $1.150, and soundly beating St. Marcos, the well-backed favorite. Three times had the same rider brought St. Marcos in a winner, and the result to-day was due to his clever work. Merriment, a Canadian horse, gave the talent another surprise to-day, in the second race, at five and one-half furiongs. The filly carried 112 pounds, and against a heavy wind down the back stretch made a handsome finish. Weather warm; track lightning fast.

COURSING AT PASTIME PARK. Haredine, Mountain Chief and Society Belle Ran Brilliantly.

ety Belle Ran Brilliantly.

The run-down of the first round of the allaged stake at Pastime Coursing Park yesterday resulted in some fine sport, Proceedings opened with the course between Count Crowley and Boundless. The blue dog seemed to lead slightly, but Boundless got the turn and then clevery scored up a lot of points. Crowley tired, good, old dog, and the youngster had it all his own way at the end.

Barton Tag led Glenkirk a short way, and then did almost all the work. He won by a safe margin, Glenkirk shirking a good deal.

Miss Bussel surprised the component by deal.

Miss Russel surprised the cognoscent by tripping up Old Virginia, who ran a promising bitch last spring. The black led by five lengths and won easily. Old Virginia was in very poor condition, being away off in loin and hips. She is not near her form.

Bogus Brummel beat Old Kentucky in a good course. The latter was right there all the way, and it took good work to beat him.

Hardine led Mac's Melody three good lengths, and worked a dazzling course. Mr. Lavin's bitch killed, and, in all, showed up brilliantly.

Bold Barbarian led Pity Me, and in a long course had a bit the best of it all the way through.

Mountain Chief and Monsoon ran an exciting rose to the bare. They want means Mountain Chief and Monsoon ran an ex-citing race to the hare. They went up on even terms until about twenty yards of the game. Then the fawn dog drew away and got the turn. Moneyon was not over eager, and Mr. Deschaseaux's dog had it all his own way. He ran a very good course, in-deed.

and Mr. Deschaseaux's dog had it all his own way. He ran a very good course, indeed.

Diana La Diable led Sweet Polly some three lengths. Polly, a fine old lady, got in, and Diana was content that it should be so. Polly won easily. Society Belle wound up the way by smothering Captain Eads, who is evidently not a superior dog. Though Van Nye had a slip that was much to his liking, White Wings trimmed him cleverly.

Bold Barbarian decisively beat Pitty Me. Astral Maid surprised everyone by running a poor course. She did not show her old speed, and completely broke down in the working part of it. Van Nye, running a very good dog, beat her easily. After the course it was found that Astral Maid had broken a toe, which accounted for her poor showing. Miss Gibbon's Banaster beat Friendly Tip rather cleverly. The big dog led up and had all the best of a nice course. Hardedine, Mountain Chief and Society Belle showed superior form in their courses and the winner of the stake should be evolved from the trio, though Banaster will have a say so. The results:
